Quiet Period: JSL observes a quiet period before disclosing its quarterly and annual results to the market. During this period, interaction with market agents is permitted, but ongoing operations, future trends or as yet undisclosed financial results are not discussed. The Company is in a quiet period since March 10, 2011 and will continue until March 25, 2011, up to the disclosure of our 4Q10 results before trading hours. This practice is formalized in the company's Disclosure Policy for Material Acts or Facts.
